"CBS ... a breath of fresh air"

It's about being part of the team

As a result of their phenomenal success in distributing computer games, Game Stores rapidly outgrew their offices which had expanded over three sites in Bracknell.

A new building was purpose built on the outskirts of Basingstoke to accommodate all 250 office staff, together with 100,000 sq ft of distribution space.

Business Design Solutions were employed to facilitate the space planning and interior design and given the objective of providing Game Stores with a modern, stylish and flexible environment that would meet their existing and future needs.

CBS successfully tendered to work on the design, specification and supply of the office furniture.

The total project required furniture and fitting out for a reception area, meeting rooms, training rooms, workstations and screening for open plan office space, a call centre, executive offices, stylish breakout space and a chic Bistro style dining area, necessary due to the 'out of town' location, and finally a boardroom that required a bespoke table and matching credenza units.

Paul Rowlands MD of Business Design Solutions, complimented CBS on their expert contribution and participation in the team that successfully completed this project on time, and said "working with CBS was like a breath of fresh air"

This statement was endorsed by Stephen Boyce, Property Director of Game Stores, who commented, "CBS's eye for detail and customer service has proven invaluable during the design specification stage and their patience and ability to work with our contractors on site made the installation a huge success".
